

The Road to a Driver's License in California

Note - All sign-up links are accessible via the webpage listed on the back.

1

Enroll in and complete the required on-line or in-person Driver Education program.

1a

Go Greenlight! (optional)

Greenlight's simulator-based driver training curriculum is a great way for your teen to learn the foundational skills of driving in the safety of the simulator before they get behind the wheel in real life

2

Get a Learner's Permit

To apply your teen must meet all of these requirements:

- Be at least 15 ½ but under 18.
- Have a Certificate of Completion from their Driver's Education program (Step 1 above).
- A Completed California Driver's License or ID Card Application.
Your teen will need to create/log into their DMV account to complete this application.
We recommend they indicate that they want a REAL ID on the application.
ALL Parents/Guardians will have to sign this application.

Note – Make sure that you get an Application confirmation number upon completion of your DL Application on the DMV website.

Once you've met the above requirements:

- Schedule an appointment with the DMV to take the permit test.

Bring the following to your teen's appointment:

- Your Driver's License and Passport.
- Your Teen's Birth Certificate and Passport (if they have one).
- Two Proofs of Residency (utility bills are good).
- Payment source for the $41 fee.
- The Driver's Education program completion confirmation.
- The confirmation number from the on-line application form.
- Bring proof of your auto insurance to be safe.

In the appointment:

Your teen will be given a vision exam, have their photo & fingerprints taken, and take the knowledge test. (Multiple choice, a passing score is 80%).

We suggest adding your teen to your insurance at this point.

3

Behind-The-Wheel Driver Training

The state requires a minimum of 6 hours of behind-the-wheel training with a state-certified driving instructor.

Note – that your teen's Learner Permit is NOT valid until the in-person driver instructor has signed it, and that your teen CANNOT drive alone with a permit.

4

Complete 50 hours of behind-the-wheel driving with your teen, (10 of which must be done at night).

You must sign their Learner's Permit attesting to completion of these hours.

5

Go Get That License!

In addition to completing everything above, your teen must have had their Learner's Permit for a minimum of 6 months.

- Schedule an appointment with the DMV to take the behind-the-wheel test.

Bring the following to your teen's appointment:

- Your teen's Learner Permit.
- Confirmation of completion of your teen's Behind-The-Wheel Driver Training program.
- Your Driver's License and Passport.
- Your Teen's Birth Certificate and Passport (if they have one).
- Two Proofs of Residency (utility bills are good).
- Proof of auto insurance.

- Make sure all of your car's lights, flashers, wipers, horn, and defroster are working.

In the appointment:

Your teen will be required to complete the Behind-The-Wheel driving test with a DMV examiner.

WHY GREENLIGHT?

Because It's Safe.

This is how your teen can practice the dangerous, the difficult, & the scary.

Because It's Designed By Experts.

Our curriculum was developed by professional racing drivers, race engineers, & DMV-Certified driver coaches.

Because It Works.

Research has proven that simulators are an effective driver training tool.

But Don't Just Take Our Word for it...

Hear from our happy customers!

Can't say enough about how AWESOME this is...

I wish Greenlight had been open sooner...

My floorboard thanks Greenlight!

This is a GAME CHANGER!

Greenlight should be a required step in the driver's training curriculum...
